Israel Plane Attack Suez Positions

TEL AVIV (AP) - Israeli warplanes attacked Egypt for the second time today, hitting artillery and military positions on the southern end of the Suez Canal, the military command announced.

The aerial strike, at 4 p.m., followed intermittent fighting that began nine hours earlier when the Egyptians began hurling artillery and mortar shells at the Israelis on the southern sector of the canal, the military said.

The Israelis returned the fire, then sent the planes in to hit the Egyptians at Port Ibrahim.

annual defense budget of $109 billion.

"We cannot spend that amount of money," he said. "We can spend at the rate of between $74 billion and $78 billion in fiscal year 1970. So we must tailor our commitments to meet what we can do."

Laird said he was seeking a "confrontation of ideas" with young people, and he was put to the test by one girl who asked: "Mister Secretary, a rough estimate states that at the present rate of withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam, 14,000 additional American men will die in Vietnam before the war ends. Can these deaths and the deaths of 30,000 other men be justified in the name of U.S. security?"

Laird replied the administration is removing combat forces from Vietnam "as rapidly as we possibly can," with two increments totaling 60,000 men already on their way out. Then, becoming rather philosophical, he added:

"I want you to know that I will judge whether I have been a success as Secretary of Defense (according to) whether the war is ended and whether these deaths can be stopped."

"There will be other withdrawals announced based on our program for Vietnamizing the war... I am confident that the program we have started out is the only program to end the war and bring about success in Vietnam."

Bloodmobile Collected 174 Pints

The Red Cross Bloodmobile visited for two days Monday, October 20th, and Tuesday, the 21st. Seventy-two pints of blood were given on the 20th, and 102 on the 21st, for a total of 174 against a quota of 200 pints.

Volunteer workers included women of the Presbyterian church and Methodist church aided the nurses and served in the canteen. Students at Red River assisted in many ways as typist, nurses aids and material handlers. Nurses from local hospitals assisted and local doctors remained on call. The 174 pints plus the 134 of August 26th means that Hempstead County has given 308 pints against a 665 pint quota.

The County will need to average 120 pints per visit for the remaining three trips between November and June 30, 1970. The next visit is Tuesday, December 16th. Here is the list of donors who gave:

A Warming Trend Is Predicted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A slight warming trend should begin in Western Arkansas tonight and spread eastward Wednesday, but temperatures should remain on the cool and crisp through Thursday.

Cloudiness will gradually increase from the west over the state through Wednesday with a chance of some light rain spreading northeastward into Western sections of the state by Wednesday afternoon.

Cold, dry Canadian air dominated the Arkansas weather today as an air mass centered over Nebraska gripped the Central section of the United States.

Highs in Arkansas Monday ranged from 66 at Texarkana to 61 at Harrison.

Overnight lows included 27 at Fayetteville, 29 at Harrison, 33 at Fayetteville, 35 at Fort Smith, 37 at Jonesboro and Memphis, 38 at Little Rock, 40 at Pine Bluff and 45 at Texarkana and El Dorado.

Rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today included .09 of an inch at Texarkana and a trace at El Dorado.

Texarkana Band to Continue Playing Dixie

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) - The playing of "Dixie" apparently will continue at Texarkana, Ark. High School functions.

The Texarkana, Ark. School Board Monday night adopted a resolution which said the use of "Dixie" as the school's fight song would continue.

About 500 persons attended the eight-minute meeting of the board.

The resolution, which was drawn up in response to demands and grievances presented to the board last week, included 15 points or statements. Several Negroes had asked that the playing of "Dixie" be discontinued.

The playing of the song at a pep rally about two weeks ago set off a disturbance at the school. Officers have patrolled the campus since the incident and the resolution said law enforcement officers would remain at the schools as long as school officials felt they were needed.

The resolution also said that any students who were suspended from the band for refusing to play "Dixie" would be reinstated at the beginning of the next semester.

Other points included in the resolution were:

- The school add a Negro attendance officer to the present administrative staff.

- Students be required to carry identification cards at all times during the school day and at school functions.

- That the history department develop an elective course in Negro history.

- Any student initiating or participating in any type of demonstration designed to disrupt the school schedule be expelled.

- And, that membership to all school clubs and organizations be open to all students who satisfy the necessary requirements of the group they wish to join.

Youth's Body Discovered at a Mill

MEMPHIS (AP) - Memphis authorities reported Monday that the body of an 18-year-old young man had been discovered during the weekend at a mill in Memphis.

The body of Steve Todd, 12, was discovered by workmen who were unloading a truck of cottonseed oil at the Swift & Co. Cotton Oil Mill. The body was found buried in cottonseed. Authorities said the death was accidental.

Police said the truck driver told them the boy had been playing on his truck while it was being loaded at Earle. The driver, said the youngster apparently climbed on the truck and was buried.

Either You Like It or You Don't

LA GRANGE, Calif. (AP) - What's shaped like an egg, has fuzz like a peach, is dirty brown in color, has the consistency of an avocado and has an "either you like it or you don't" taste. Right you are. A Kiwi berry.

The Kiwi berry is native to China and is grown commercially in Australia and New Zealand, which export them to specialty food markets in the United States. They command a retail price of about 60 cents a pound.

Joel Hall, a 29-year-old farmer who has 1,700 acres on the Toulumne River near here, is trying to break into the market with California-grown Kiwi berries.

How do they taste? "Either you like it or you don't," says Hall. "They are a little like an apple. Or, you might say they taste something like a watermelon, only a little more tart... or maybe like a tangerine."

Group Joins Fight Against Model City Plan

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) - Citizens Councils of America will join Freedom Inc. in its battle against the federal Model Cities program.

W. D. Lord Jr. of Greenville, Miss., a field worker for the Citizens Council, made the announcement here Monday at a news conference. Dr. Mitchell Young, national president of Freedom Inc., was present at the news conference.

Young organized the group to support freedom of choice as the method to achieve school integration. Young says the Model Cities program deprives a community of local control of its schools.

Lord said his group would work with the Texarkana organization in any way possible. He also read a resolution adopted Saturday in an executive session of the councils.

The resolution urged all school boards in Arkansas to refuse to sign compliance pledges or to take "unlawful dictates" from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Local school board members were urged to demand that HEW officials visit the individual communities and face the parents of school children.

Arkansas Is Shot to Death in Saigon

QUITMAN, Ark. (AP) - Navy Boatman 3.C. Jesse Bateman, 23, of Quitman (Clebure County) was fatally shot in a Saigon restaurant in Vietnam last week. Authorities ruled the shooting as accidental.

Bateman was scheduled to be discharged from the Navy in April.

FIGHTING (From Page One)

U.S. Headquarters reported two clashes involving U.S. troops patrolling the Saigon River about 27 miles north of Saigon. Five enemy were reported killed in one fight Monday evening and 14 more in an early morning ambush of a North Vietnamese unit crossing the river. One American was reported wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 32 enemy killed in two Mekong Delta battles 127 miles southwest and 113 miles west of Saigon. It said government casualties were "very light."

In the northern provinces, elements of the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division battled a company-size unit Monday 21 miles west of Hue. Vietnamese headquarters said 23 enemy soldiers were killed at a cost of two wounded. Four 120mm mortars were captured.

The B52s dropped about 300 tons of bombs during the night in areas 82 to 92 miles north of Saigon. Portions of two enemy divisions are known to be in this frontier sector, and allied commanders expect them to take part in a winter-spring offensive which intelligence officers say may begin about Nov. 15.

In two more raids, the big bombers dropped about 200 tons of bombs 85 miles southeast of Da Nang.

The South Vietnamese government announced that it will release 24 prisoners of war Wednesday but said this was not in response to the Viet Cong's announcement that it would free three U.S. soldiers. A government spokesman said all the prisoners are former Viet Cong who are being released for "humanitarian reasons" and because of their good behavior while in prison camps.

Marshall Gives Order Freeing Father Groppi

MILWAUKEE (AP) - The Rev. James E. Groppi, saying he had undergone a spiritual awakening behind bars, was freed from jail Monday by order of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall.

"I don't believe a prison is a place for any human being," the civil rights leader said as he left the Milwaukee County House of Corrections and went to his North Side Roman Catholic parish. "There is no happiness in a prison. It is a living cemetery. It was spiritually awakening, but I'm glad to be out."

"From right now," he declared, "the rest of my life will be dedicated to the men who are in prison."

Justice Marshall's order is effective until the Supreme Court acts on Father Groppi's appeal of the conviction last year for resisting arrest during a 1967 open housing march. The priest was released on his own recognizance, meaning that no bail was required.

Father Groppi, 38, was charged by Dane County authorities Oct. 1 with disorderly conduct after he led 2,000 students and welfare recipients into the Capitol's Assembly chambers in Madison to protest reductions in state welfare budgets.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HOUSE OF "CADS"

Dear Helen: This house is unreal. I can't take it much longer.

My mother and brother make a point of ignoring my father. He's just someone who brings home the paper every night and the paycheck every week. He's always cheerful and has a smile — but I'm the only one who notices.

Mom won't say hello to Dad. She thinks of any possible excuse to leave the house so she won't have to eat dinner with him. If she can't manage a shopping trip, night classes or whatever, she sits at the table reading, while he eats and acts as if nothing's wrong — while I sit there trying to break the Great Silence and getting indigestion. Maybe my father did something terrible, but he doesn't act like it. He's a kind, warm wonderful person, though a bit stubborn. I love my mother and brother too, and this split down the middle of the family is tearing me to pieces.

Sometimes I feel like screaming, or smashing something, just so I could stop this quietness. But my mother would think I

Movies Trying to Avert Legal Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights investigation the late Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen demanded the government end may result in a suit against the motion picture and television industries.

Attorneys for the major movie studios and the three television networks began talks with Justice Department civil rights officials Monday in a last-ditch attempt to avert legal action.

But if there is no settlement, the department is prepared to file complaints charging movie studios, TV networks and various craft unions with anti-Negro hiring practices.

Ironically, it was the movie industry probe that led Dirksen to threaten last March 27 to have Clifford L. Alexander Jr. fired as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The Illinois Republican claimed the EEOC, under Alexander's leadership, harassed industry executives during hearings in Los Angeles.

Responding to Dirksen, the White House announced Alexander would be replaced. But the young Negro lawyer quit before he was ousted.

In doing so, Alexander protested a "crippling lack of support" by the Nixon administration, particularly because the Justice Department had not acted on EEOC recommendations for a suit against the movie industry.

Citing Negro employment figures, Alexander said the major Hollywood studios had only a handful of blacks among their nonperforming, off-camera employees.

was having a nervous breakdown, my brother would consider me un-cool, and my Dad would probably be embarrassed to death. Maybe they can take this "pretend living," but it is driving me up the wall. What can I do? — LIPPINCOTT

Dear Lippincott: I think this "Great Silence" needs a crisis to break it — and perhaps your scream might do the trick. Let your family know what they are doing to you. It might shock them into facing their problems as adults — H.

Dear Helen: I am a young girl of 22, getting OLD. I've been told I'm very pretty and have a good personality. But I'm continually disappointed in the kind of dates I get.

I want a guy who is terribly attractive, both physically and otherwise. I usually get the "otherwise." I know this isn't smart, but if a man isn't handsome he doesn't rate with me. I'm tired of being single, but I'm afraid I've already passed up my husband who was probably one of those ugly ducklings I turned down.

When a girl is "hooked on looks" does she need a psychiatrist? — FUSSY

Dear Fussy: Not a psychiatrist — just a better seeing eye. Attractive people are almost always "hooked on looks" for like seeks like. Because they fall the package and not the content, they often end up disappointed.

Learn to recognize the many different kinds of handsomeness (inner as well as outer) and remember the absolutely perfect man exists only in the dreams of young unmarried females. — H. PERSONAL TO "MISERABLE": When you smoke, drink, and "sneak out" to prove your parties are all wrong about being "too strict," you're proving only one thing: Your parents were right in the first place — you are not mature enough for the privileges you seek.

Play it their way for the next few months. Then write again, and if things are no better, I'll reopen your case. — H.

Texas, Hogs Trade Places in Statistics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Methodist's statistical darlings, Chuck Hixson and Gary Hammond, have been joined by teammate Daryl Doggett in a concentrated Mustang effort to command every statistical category kept by the Southwest Conference.

Doggett succeeded Arkansas' Bill Burnett as the league's leading rusher with 465 yards in 104 carries for four touchdowns. Burnett, the season-long leading rusher, dropped to second with 441 yards in 105 carries.

Hammond continued to lead in receiving, tandem offense and kickoff returns. The slippery sophomore has snagged 36 passes for 601 yards and two touchdowns, has returned 18 kickoffs 411 yards and in tandem offense (rushing and receiving), he has handled the ball 52 times for 677 yards.

Hixson, as has been the case for 1½ seasons, leads in passing and total offense. He has completed 131 of 217 passes for 1,499 yards and seven touchdowns and his total offense is 270 plays for 1,383 yards.

Burnett retained his scoring lead with two more touchdowns against Wichita State last week for 54 point total.

Texas and Arkansas traded places in the team stats with Texas moving to the top in total defense and Arkansas taking over the total offense lead. Arkansas has averaged 420.6 yards and 9 scored 24 touchdowns on offense. Texas has allowed an average of 223.4 yards through five games on defense.

Quarterback Revolution in Swing

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The quarterback revolution is in full swing in the National Football League due to a combination of injuries, sore arms and the inconsistency of some of the veterans.

Bruce Lemmerman, who holds most of the passing records at San Fernando Valley State College in California and was picked up by Atlanta as a free agent, started Sunday against Green Bay in place of the injured Bob Berry. Randy Johnson has been tried and found wanting the previous week.

Steve Spurrier sat on the bench and confined his game activity of punting for the San Francisco 49ers until John Brodie's sore arm forced Coach Dick Nolan to make a change. Spurrier led the 49ers to their first victory Sunday in an upset of the Baltimore Colts, a happy day for those Florida football fans who had been waiting for the real Spurrier to show the pros how it is done.

Terry Hanratty, the Notre Dame product who is being groomed for the No. 1 job at Pittsburgh, got a startling shot when Dick Snider was clotheslined and unable to speak.

The Chicago Bears, desperate for a win, switched to Bob Douglass, the lefty passer from Kansas, and almost made it against Los Angeles, finally succumbing 9-7.

Bill Munson's injury opened the gates for Greg Landry at Detroit. The 22-year-old Massachusetts alumnus has taken over since Munson suffered a broken hand. The lanky quarterback took the Lions in to victory over the Bears but was unable to handle the Minnesota pass rush.

An injury to Jim Hart has enabled Charley Johnson, who used to be St. Louis' No. 1 boy, to regain the job. Johnson responded with three touchdown passes, including a pressure pass in the final seconds for a 21-21 tie with Cleveland.

Bart Starr sat for a time a week ago while Green Bay took another look at Don Horn, the San Diego State passer who came out of the service last year to knock the Bears out of a divisional title in the final game of the season.

An exhibition game injury cost Koe Kapp his regular job with the Minnesota Vikings when the season started.

District Action at Standstill

Conference action in Div. 4AA East or West comes to a standstill this weekend but several non-league games highlight the week's activity. Magnolia and Crossett (each 3-1) share the East lead while Fairview (2-0) and Arkadelphia (1-0) set the West pace.

Games this week find Fairview at Magnolia; Hope at Camden; Lincoln at Smackover; Crossett at Conway; Arkadelphia at Gurdon; Lincoln host to Sheridan; and Warrenhost to Fordyce.

Results from last week: Hope 21 Magnolia 0; Fairview 20 Ashdown 19; Arkadelphia 37, Malvern 7; Crossett 14 Smackover 6; Camden 6 Warren 0; and Lincoln won their first game of the season 22-8 over Eudora Johns.

Highlights of the past week's play included: Hope's Artis Martin ran 27 times for 192 yards; Crossett's Ray Brookings had a 95-yard kickoff return; Arkadelphia's Bill Vining three touchdowns passes; Lincoln's Cleveland Murphy scored three times in their first victory; and Fairview's Cardinals handed a good Class A Ashdown their first loss of the season.

Fairview now has the No. 1 and No. 2 individual score. Jimmy Harris with 75 points lead the scoring and scrambling Lewis Pryor had 58 points Harris also leads the PAT kickers with 21. R. Brown of Hope and J. Lucas of Crossett share the Field Goal leadership with two each.

Arkadelphia leads in team scoring with 257 points; Crossett leads in defense against scoring yielding 41 points. Hope is the leading rushing team with 1,594 yds., Fairview leads in defense against rushing yielding 622 yards (Crossett had yielded 623 yds.) Arkadelphia is easily the top passing team with over 1,100 yards while Magnolia leads in defense against passing. Hope leads in first downs with 115.

Overall this has been the most productive scoring season ever in 4AA. Through this past week-end exactly 100 players have scored a point or more for the ten member teams. The total team scoring for the league is 1,350 points.

Cowboys' Defense Beats Giants

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — A dejected Fran Tarkenton sat on a bench in the New York Giants dressing room and talked like a man who had been with Custer at his last stand.

"They just kept coming," said the Giants' quarterback of the Dallas Cowboy defense, which dumped him 10 times for losses totaling 70 yards in a 25-3 National Football League victory Monday night.

"The understatement of the year would be that Dallas just has a pretty good defense," said Tarkenton. "It's the best defense I've ever seen them play."

Tarkenton suffered the indignity of being tackled in his own end zone for a safety by George Andrie. He also fumbled once, threw an interception and was even tagged with a 15-yard penalty for intentionally grounding the ball.

Porkers Are Still 4th in Ratings

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's little reason to suspect that powerful Ohio State will have a tough time with the Wildcats this Saturday but Tennessee is likely to have its hands full with the Bulldogs.

The top-ranked Buckeyes, while rolling up a 5-0 record, have scored 232 points and given up 42. Their opponents, the Northwestern Wildcats, have scored 73 points and yielded 177 in posting a 2-4 mark.

The match between third-ranked Tennessee and Georgia's Bulldogs, No. 11, seems to be the most attractive on this weekend's schedule. The Vols are 5-0 and have piled up 198 scoring points to 57 for the opposition. Georgia, 5-1, has scored 193 points with 49 against.

Second-ranked Texas takes on Southern Methodist, Arkansas, No. 4, plays Texas A&M and Penn State, No. 5, meets Boston College.

Penn State and Florida gained the most ground among the Top Ten teams in the latest Associated Press major college football poll. Both zoomed three places, the Nittany Lions to fifth and Florida to seventh.

Ohio State held its solid lead by drawing 35 first-place votes and 772 points in the balloting by a national panel of 39 sports writers and broadcasters. The next three teams, Texas, Tennessee and Arkansas, maintained the same order as last week.

Southern California advanced from seventh to sixth while Louisiana State also moved up one place, from ninth to eighth. UCLA, held to a tie by Stanford, tumbled three places to ninth. Notre Dame, a 37-0 winner over Tulane, is the only new team in the first 10. The Irish climbed from the No. 12 position. Missouri, fifth a week ago, tumbled to 14th after losing to Colorado.

Colorado and Michigan advanced to the Second Ten, replacing Oklahoma and Mississippi. Colorado took over 18th place and the Wolverines, 20th after defeating Minnesota for the Little Brown Jug. Oklahoma was beaten by Kansas State and Mississippi lost to Houston.

The remainder of this Saturday's schedule involving Top Ten teams: Southern California, Florida-Auburn, LSU, Mississippi, UCLA-Washington and Notre Dame-Navy.

The Top 20 with first place votes in parentheses, season records and points for the first 15 picks on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9 etc. basis:

Casper Back in Top 10 Moneywise

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Casper, last year's leading money winner among the pro golfers, has moved back into the top 10 this week.

Casper displaced Tommy Aaron in 10th place after tying for sixth place in the San Francisco Open last week.

Figures released by the PGA Tournament Players Division today showed that Casper earned $3,112 to boost his 1969 income to $89,747.

Aaron, 10th a week ago with $87,025, finished far down the listings in the San Francisco field and won only $493 to drop out of the top 10.

Frank Beard maintained the lead among the money winners, increasing his earnings to $173,746.

Veck Up to Old Tricks

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Veck, the old major league baseball maverick, is up to some of his old tricks as president of Suffolk Downs.

Veck sent out a call for 100 black cats for use during Friday night's harness racing program. He declined to say what he wanted the cats for, but Friday just happens to be Halloween.

Hanging Out College Grid Wash

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: Kansas State played its first game of football back in 1887 and the school paper reported it this way:

"Some 30 students indulged in a game of football on Friday afternoon. It is to be hoped that our students have the good sense to play even football with violence."

The wish came true. Kansas State's non-violent teams posted only 22 winning seasons, the last in 1954. But things have changed.

Vince Gibson arrived as head coach in 1967 and the Wildcats promptly beat Colorado State in their opener but then slipped to a 1-9 season. Last year the record was 4-6 and it's now 5-1 following Saturday's 59-21 route of Oklahoma. K-State even is in the nation's Top Twenty teams.

"To say that there was a losing attitude when I arrived here is an understatement," said Gibson. "That attitude isn't completely wiped out, but it's gotten better."

One of the reasons is what Gibson calls "purple pride." Purple is Kansas State's color; pride is Gibson's color. A record crowd of 38,500 turned out for the Oklahoma game—K-State hadn't beaten the Sooners since 1934—and Gibson describes it as "a sea of purple."

Gibson, you see, is a pusher... a purple pusher. He's got a purple telephone, a Purple Pride television show, wears purple underwear and purple shirts and is constantly being flooded with gimmicks from his fans—all purple, naturally.

"On Saturday, a lady gave me two purple coat hangers," he said. "But the wildest was a little radio in the form of a purple toilet."

Chamberlain, West Find Shooting Eye

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West, both of the Los Angeles Lakers, have found the shooting range during the early weeks of the National Basketball Association season to lead the scoring race.

Chamberlain is the top scorer with a 33.1 average followed by West with a 33.0 mark according to figures released by the league today.

Billy Cunningham of the Philadelphia 76ers ranks third at 27.8 and Chet Walker of the Chicago Bulls is fourth with 26.0. Defending scoring champion Elvin Hayes of the San Diego Rockets and Jeff Mullins of the San Francisco Warriors are tied for fifth at 25.8.

Wes Unseld of the Baltimore Bullets boasts the best field goal percentage, .618, while Flynn Robinson of the Milwaukee Bucks has been the most effective free throw shooter with a .935 mark.

Chamberlain dominates the rebounders with an average of 21.3 retrieves per game and Walt Frazier of the New York Knickerbockers is tops among the playmakers, averaging 9.8 assists a game.

Top Ranked Prep Teams Play Friday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Voters in The Associated Press high school football poll should have little trouble marking the top spot on their ballot next week.

Top-ranked Fort Smith Northside and second-ranked Little Rock Hall put their unbeaten strings on the line Friday night at Little Rock.

If the form holds true, the winner will go undefeated and claim the state championship. The last two years the winner has been in Northside. In fact, Hall has only lost two games the last two years—both to Northside.

Northside was named first on 12 of the 13 ballots cast this week and Hall received the other vote. Next week's choice is likely to be unanimous.

There was little shuffling in this week's poll as most of the ranked teams came through unscathed.

Northside eased past tenth-ranked Texarkana 13-0 and Hall was idle. Springdale and Jonesboro each moved up a notch as the result of third-ranked Little Rock Central's scoreless tie with sixth-ranked El Dorado. Springdale took over the No. 3 spot and unbeaten Jonesboro moved up to No. 4 as the Tigers dropped to fifth.

El Dorado remained sixth. Arkadelphia, another unbeaten, moved into a tie for seventh with Little Rock Catholic. Catholic was ranked seventh and Arkadelphia eighth last week.

Little Rock McClellan and Texarkana held their ninth and tenth positions.

Once again, Arkadelphia was a unanimous choice for the top spot in the Class AA rankings and McGeehe received all 13 first place votes in Class A. Rison made its first appearance in the rankings, tying Brinkley for the No. 3 spot in Class A.

Murfreesboro continues to lead the way in Class B, followed by Luxora and Stamps. Mineral Springs, tied for third last week, dropped from the rankings after losing to Murfreesboro.

Here are the results of The Associated Press poll with first place votes and team records in parentheses and total points at right:

|----------------------------|-----|
| 1. FS Northside (12) (7-0) | 129 |
| 2. LR Hall (1) (6-0) | 117 |
| 3. Springdale (6-2) | 92 |
| 4. Jonesboro (7-0) | 73 |
| 5. LR Central (4-2-1) | 69 |
| 6. El Dorado (4-1-2) | 61 |
| 7. (tie) LR Catholic (5-2) | 56 |
| 8. Arkadelphia (7-0) | 56 |
| 9. LR McClellan (5-2-1) | 28 |
| 10. Texarkana (5-3) | 26 |

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: FS Southside, McGeehe, Sheridan and West Memphis.

Class AA
1. Arkadelphia (13) (7-0) 39
2. Harrison (7-0-1) 21
3. Newport (7-1) 12

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Augusta and Joe T. Robinson.

Class B
1. Murfreesboro (11) (8-0) 36
2. Luxora (7-1) 20
3. Stamps (2) (7-0) 17

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Holly Grove and Mineral Springs.

Pirates Purchase Two Players

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have purchased the contracts of two pitchers and a catcher from their farm system and are sending three other players to their Columbus farm club in the International League.

The Pirates said Monday pitcher Bo Belinsky, catcher-utility man Gary Kolb and outfielder Lorenzo Lanier would go to Columbus.

The Pirates brought up from Columbus pitchers Dennis Malseed and Barry Houser and catcher Milton May.

CONFERENCE CLASHES DOMINATE PIGSKIN SCHEDULE THIS WEEK

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Famous Forecaster

Egad, friends, some very important conference clashes are on tap this week-end.

The Hoople System has reviewed the feature contests and has some startling predictions for you.

The biggest shocker of a shocking Saturday will find Arizona State (3-2) handing Wyoming (6-0) a 26-22 setback in the leading Western Athletic Conference clash—har-rumph!

Equally as surprising will be the Georgia Bulldogs' (5-1) triumph over Tennessee (5-0) by a 30-29 count in the Southeastern Conference. In another top-rated Southeastern meeting, the LSU Tigers (6-0) will whip Mississippi (3-3) by the margin of two points, 22-20.

In the Ivy League, the high-flying Dartmouth Indians (5-0) will fall before the Yale Bulldogs, 29-22. And in the Big Eight, the Missouri Tigers (5-1), who were upset last Saturday, will do an about-face as they edge the point-happy Kansas State (5-1) lads, 28-20.

Purdue (5-1), which has designs on going to the Rose Bowl, will wrap up another Big Ten win by thrashing Illinois, 49-7. And Southern California (5-0-1), shooting for a fourth straight Rose Bowl appearance, will squeeze past arch-enemy California, 20-18.

There's a real scrap on tap in the Southwestern Conference, where the Arkansas Razorbacks (5-0) take on

Orr Is Best Defender in Hockey

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Orr, the 21-year-old super defencemen of the Boston Bruins, has taken over the National Hockey League scoring lead, the latest statistics disclosed today.

Orr, who set a league record for defencemen by totaling 21 goals and 64 points last season, has 14 points so far this year on two goals and 12 assists.

Phil Esposito of the Bruins, last season's scoring titleholder, has moved into a second place tie with Ab McDonald and Phil Goyette of St. Louis and Henri Richard of Montreal. Each has nine points. Billy Hicke of Oakland is sixth with eight.

The Bruins' netminding tandem of Gerry Cheevers and Ed Johnston paces the goalies with a combined average of only 1.43 goals a game. Gary Doak, another Boston defenceman, is the loop's badman with 32 minutes in penalties.

rugged Texas A&M (2-4). Despite their unimpressive record, the Aggies will give the Razorbacks a stiff argument before succumbing, 28-20.

The leading independent engagement is the Air Force Falcons invading the fair of the Army Cadets. I predict the Air Force boys will bomb the Army stalwarts into submission, 35-16.

Two other contests worthy of mention will find the Houston Cougars, who have regained their scoring touch, thumping the Miami (Fla.) Hurricanes, 35-14, and Notre Dame's Irish will sink the

Starters Are Uncertain for Aggies

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles said Monday he was uncertain who would be in Arkansas' starting lineup for Saturday's Southwest Conference clash with Texas A&M at Fayetteville.

Broyles said Bill Montgomery would start at quarterback if his ribs are healed. Montgomery sat out last week's Wichita State game, nursing rib and thigh injuries. Broyles said John Eichler, who guided the Razorbacks to a 52-14 victory last week, would start if Montgomery could not play.

Middle linebacker Cliff Powell received a hyper-extension of his right elbow Saturday and is questionable. Powell, however, surprised Broyles by showing up Monday for practice.

Broyles said Robert Lewis and Mike Boschetti worked at middle linebacker Monday.

Broyles also said that Bill Clard, a field goal and placement specialist, would handle the kickoffs in place of Tim Webster. Webster injured a knee Saturday and is out for the season.

Broyles also said A&M, which whipped Baylor 24-0 last week, is an improved football team.

"They have a lot of sophomores starting and they are getting better," Broyles said. Fullback Bruce Maxwell, center Rodney Brand, safety Dennis Berner and defensive end Gordon McNulty were named captains for Saturday's game.

 HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
 The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

 1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily Jan. 1, 1920, by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

 The opposition line:
 1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.
 1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

 1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

 1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
 Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

 1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
 — but both papers suspended in 1922.

 1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
 Hempstead County Review.

 1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

 1929 — C.E. Palmer and A.H.
 Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

 1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

 1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

Lawyer Group Opposes Haynsworth

 CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) —
 Officials of the American Trial
 Lawyers Association say a majority of its members believe that Judge Clement Haynsworth's nomination to the U.S.
 Supreme Court should be withdrawn.
 "Public uncertainty over the ethical conduct of any nominee to the U.S. Supreme Court seriously affects public confidence in the integrity of our judicial system," Leon L. Wolfstone, president of the 24,000-member organization said Sunday.

Ultimatum for Drinking Drivers

 Alcohol-related car accidents are killing more than 25,000 Americans per year. To help catch the drunk driver, science has come up with new and improved chemical tests for sobriety. These tests, which check blood, breath, urine, or saliva, are far more accurate than such old standbys as walking a straight line or pronouncing "Methodist Episcopal."
 But there has always been one big problem: what to do about the motorist who, after being stopped by a policeman, refuses to take the test. To force him to submit is to raise tough questions of constitutional rights.

 Now, however, a growing number of states are finding the answer by passing an "implied consent" law.
 This law says that a motorist, just by using the public streets, gives his implied consent—in advance—to a sobriety test. Then, when he is halted, he faces a kind of ultimatum: either take the test or lose your driver's license.

 True, he cannot be put to this choice without reasonable grounds.
 An arresting officer may not insist on a test unless there are visible signs that the driver really is intoxicated.

 Furthermore, it does not count as a refusal to take the test if the motorist is simply unable to carry out the officer's instructions.
 In one unusual case, a motorist was unable to blow into a testing balloon because of difficulty with his dentures. A court ruled afterward that, under these circumstances, the state had no right to revoke the man's license.

 On the other hand, a refusal to take the test is not excused by the fact that the motorist is later acquitted of having been intoxicated.
 His license can be revoked anyhow, not as a penalty for drunk driving but as a penalty for his refusal to obey the officer's lawful request.

 "It must be remembered," said one court, "that it is a privilege to operate a motor vehicle on our highways and not a right. The state may prescribe conditions on which that privilege is exercised."

 lic service feature by Will Bernard.

Met Hurlers Won't Demand Too Much

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Kosman doesn't think he and his pitching mate, Tom Seaver, have attained a Koufax-Drysdale status yet and they won't be hitting the Mets for a $100,000 contract.

"You don't become a Koufax or a Drysdale in a year, or in two years or three years," the tall, left-handed ace of New York's world baseball champions said today, referring to the Dodgers' famed one-two punch of Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, both now retired.

"Those of us who think we deserve it will be asking for good-sized raises next year, naturally. A man's baseball career is short. He has to hit for money when he produces and expect to take his cuts when he doesn't."

"The Mets are not a team with one or two super stars, like a Koufax, a Willie Mays or a Mickey Mantle. Ours was a team effort, I'm sure the guys as a team will be rewarded. We don't expect any contract trouble."

He is a member of a blue-ribbon forum which also includes Tucker Frederickson of the New York football Giants; Doug Ford, golf pro; Nancy Richey, tennis; and Cazzle Russell of the New York Knicks, basketball.

This is one of the fringe benefits accruing to the Mets pitcher from the recent World Series victory.

"My life has really changed — as has that of the other Mets," said the 26-year-old Minnesotan, dapper in a green Continental suit, matching shirt and tie.

"My picture has been in the paper so much people recognize me on the street. They come up to congratulate me or ask for my autograph. At home, back in Morris, I have a listed telephone. It is ringing constantly, people calling from all over the country.

"This can get distracting, but I think it's nice. My whole fami-

Moon Scientist Resigns From Space Agency

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The man who directed the first study of moon rock says he is resigning from the space agency after learning an engineer is to take his job.

Dr. Bernard H. Bell, director of the moon laboratory and a recent critic of the space agency's lunar plans, said Monday the

ly enjoy it."

Koosman and his wife have a son, Michael, 2, with another offspring on the way. Morris, Minn., is a rural agricultural community of around 10,000.

"It will be a busy winter," Koosman said. "Next month six of us leave for Tennessee, Agor, Glen Rose, Ed Krampef, Art Shinsky in addition to Koosman, to begin for two weeks on the stage at Caesar's Palace. My business manager, Henry Bokheim, and agent, Frank Scott, are busy making other deals."

space agency engineers "Feel they should have firm operational control of the laboratory."

"It's time for the guys who organized it to move on," he added.

Bell, who has worked for the space agency for two years, said he would leave in mid-January to return to the Oak Ridge, Tenn., National Laboratory to do thermonuclear studies. He worked in Oak Ridge before joining the space agency.

In interviews last month, Bell, a physicist, attacked the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's plans for exploration of the moon.

Bell said he decided to quit after learning he was to become an assistant to Anthony J. Calio, new director of science and applications at the Manned Spacecraft Center, and that an engineer, Bryan Erb, was to take over the laboratory.

Bell is the third prominent scientist to leave the Manned Spacecraft Center. Dr. Wilmot Illers, chief of science and applications, and Dr. Elbert King, curator of the laboratory, were the others.

Bears Off to Worst Start in 50 Years

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A lot of funny things have happened to the Chicago Bears on their way to a 0-6 season, their worst start in 50 years of pro football.

If you think spooks come out only on Halloween, ask the Bears. They've been living with them.

Here're some of the things they've done:

St. Louis 20, Bears 17—Quarterback Jack Concannon lined up behind center on the Cardinal 34, then steps back suddenly and signals a time out. Center Mike Pyle snaps the ball into the air. Larry Stallings plucks it. The lumberjacks 62 yards for a St. Louis TD. No one went after him, figuring time was called.

New York 28, Bears 24—On a cannon, on the Bear 24, there is a wide pass toward Gale Sayers. Unsuspecting Sayers is held in the back with the ball. Gale Lockhart recovered for the Giants and on the next play, Fran Tarkenton spots a touch-down pass to Freeman Williams.

Later, Sayers signals a run catch but the ball goes into the end zone. A penalty was called after the officials huddle and determine that Sayers did not signal vigorously enough. The ball was brought out to the five.

After Miss Betty blocks out the Vikings' punt, it rolls into the yard into the end zone, and the game is over for a TD. Quarterback Fred Cox has a punt and from the Minnesota 30-yard line, blocks it. The ball goes right back into Cox's yard, where it rolls 10 yards - to the Vikings' 40-yard line. First down. Eight yards to go. The Vikings score.

At the 40-yard line, backs 7-Jack and 7-Bob, a Herman Griebel, are blocked by Benjie Moran, who is blocked by Taylor and a defender. The loose bundle of players is penalized 15 yards for fouling the blocking rule and for fouling. The Rams return to the 25-yard line. First down on the 25-yard line, up Bruce and 7-Jack. Rails Bow to Order for Safety Bill

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroad industry, under attack for an accident rate which has almost doubled in eight years, is expected to reluctantly endorse the Nixon administration's train safety bill.

The industry, labor unions and the administration, including Transportation Secretary John Volpe, were called to testify on rail safety during hearings starting today by a Senate Commerce subcommittee.

The industry's endorsement, however reluctant, would mark an abrupt turnaround from last spring when rail spokesmen insisted the industry should continue, as it has for the past century, to police its own safety.

However, some industry critics see the move as an attempt to halt momentum behind two other bills, which take a tougher approach than the administration measure.

All three measures would require the secretary of transportation to establish minimum safety standards for all phases of railroad operations.

But the other bills, introduced by Sens. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., impose, among other things, stiffer penalties and enforcement tools.

Federal regulatory authority currently extends only to locomotives, power brakes, signals, hours of service of employees and some safety appliances such as ladders and handrails on boxcars.

While the federal government can prescribe how a dangerous commodity shall be packaged for rail shipment, it cannot inspect the wheels or undercarriage of the car in which it is to be moved, or the rails and track over which it is to pass.

And while greater amounts of dangerous commodities—including Vietnam-bound ammunition, volatile industrial chemicals and, until recently, surplus Army war gas, move over the nation's railroads, more and more trains are jumping tracks with potentially disastrous consequences.

Part of the blame must be laid to decades-old rolling stock and rails forged at the turn of the century. In addition, labor unions charge the railroads with poor maintenance and failure to heed even existing safety laws.

Allowing the industry to police itself—unlike such comparable industries as airlines and interstate truck lines—has produced questionable results.

Train accidents, two-thirds of which are derailments caused by factors not covered by existing safety laws, are up from 4,148 in 1961 to 8,028 in 1968—"a significant increase by any yardstick," according to the task force.

The National Transportation Safety Board—NTSB—provides other examples:

—The cause of a derailment last Jan. 25 at Laurel, Miss., of a Southern Railroad freight train carrying liquefied petroleum gas which exploded, resulting in two deaths and evacuation of the town, was found—in a NTSB report not yet released—to be a wheel which broke under stress. The wheel, and thousands like it on trains across the country, met standards established by the AAR.

—The derailment of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train Jan. 1, 1968, at Dunreith, Ind., caused evacuation of the town when several volatile cargoes careened off the tracks, setting off a fire which raged for 10 hours and destroyed a cannery—the town's principle business—and seven homes. Cyanide from a burst tank car seeped into a nearby creek, killing livestock and requiring health protection measures for two months afterward.

Yet a representatives of the AAR's Bureau of Explosives, to which by law is delegated the responsibility for protecting the public in such emergencies, did not arrive on the scene until 10 hours after the accident.

The railroads, contending they are doing the best they can under financial limitations imposed by an inflation-plagued economy, say one of every four train accidents is caused by human error—putting the onus on the unionized employees.

Fighting earlier legislation, a spokesman for the Association of American Railroads—AAR—contended federal safety laws would impose untenable financial hardships on the industry. Besides, he added, no one is more concerned about rail safety than the railroads.

And Thomas M. Goodfellow, AAR president, told a House committee considering a 1968 rail safety proposal the industry couldn't do more than it was doing to better its safety record.

A little more than a year later, however, Goodfellow signed on behalf of the AAR a government report recommending, in part, "that legislation authorizing broad federal regulatory powers should be enacted with certain safeguards."

The report came from a task force on rail safety created by Volpe, composed of railroad management and labor, members of state regulatory agencies and personnel from the Federal Railroad Administration—FRA.

Scott Called to the White House After a Call for a Ceasefire

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott had hoped his proposal for a U.S. cease-fire in South Vietnam would draw some signal from Hanoi—instead he got a call from the White House.

Senate sources reported Scott was requested to do two things; make clear the cease-fire proposal was not an administration offering, and if there is such a step, it will have to be mutually observed.

Scott did as he was asked, although he felt both points already had been made.

He again disclaimed any knowledge of what President Nixon intends to say in his Nov. 3 speech on Vietnam, adding "but I do hope a mutually observed cease-fire will result."

Scott insisted he was not backing off his personal suggestion that the United States initiate a cease-fire, to remain effective if the Communists observe it, too.

But he certainly modified his terms.

"Since the President is on a peace course, I express the hope that a mutually observed cease-fire will result," Scott said. "How it occurs is a matter of speculation."

The change in Monday's terminology demonstrated the problems facing a man who serves as:

SW District Music Group Meets Here

For the Southwest District meeting of the Arkansas Federation of Music Clubs in Hope on Saturday, October 25, Mrs. Marion Crank of Foreman, district president had charge of the morning session and Mrs. J.F. Stewart of Danville, state president, made the principal address in the afternoon.

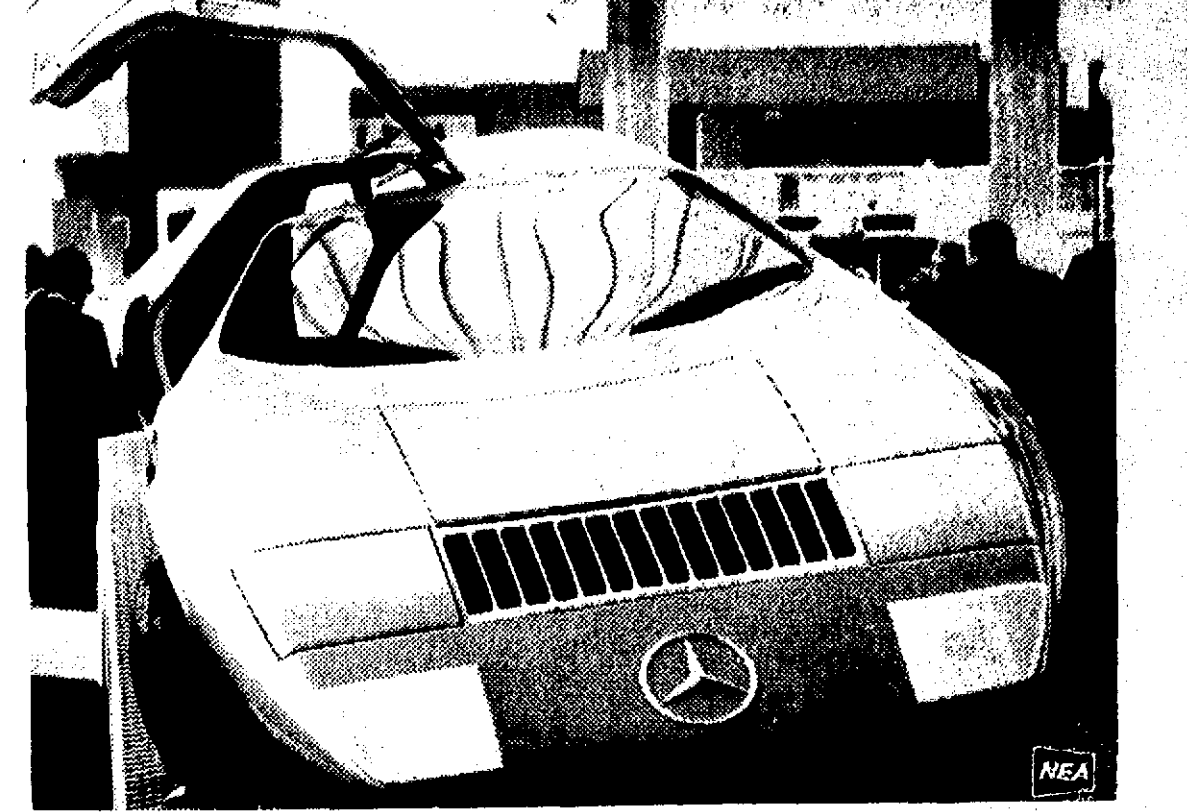

The one-day meeting was held at the First Baptist Church with Mrs. Clarence Geist, president of the host club, giving the welcome with Mrs. David Campbell, President of the Camden Thursday Musicales, furnishing the response.

A musical program that morning featured two Inspiration Point scholarship winners, Lawrence Porter of Atlanta, Tex., and Don Weems of Camden, both pianists. Mr. Porter played two selections, "Sonata, Opus 2, No. 1" by Beethoven and "Suite for Piano" by Norman Dello Joio. "Concerto in G Major" (Andante) by Mozart was played as a duet by Mr. Weems and Miss Elizabeth Copeland, organist, also of Camden.

Delegates from Arkadelphia, Camden, Foreman, Magnolia, Texarkana, and Hope attended a business meeting before noon. About 35 were served luncheon in the Fellowship Hall of the church, which was decorated with paper pumpkins, yellow and bronze mums, pyracantha berries and cunningham branches.

The beautiful soprano voice of Miss Frances Scott, North Little Rock, was heard in several numbers with Wayne Green, Arkadelphia, piano accompanist. Then, Mrs. Stewart gave her President's Message that included news of the Inspiration Point Fine Arts Colony near Eureka Springs and a tribute to the late Dr. Hattie Mae Butterfield who had meant so much to all phases of music in Arkansas.

Duo-pianists Mrs. B.C. Hyatt and Mrs. Donald Mushtare left their audience spell-bound with their performance of selections by Bach, Purcell, Vivaldi, Scarlatti, Bizet, and Moszkowski. Guests for this part of the program were Mrs. C.W. Bridgers, Mrs. E.J. McCabe, Mrs. Henry Haynes, and Mrs. George Frazier.

Says Enemy to Let Prisoners Write Home

CHICAGO (AP) — David T. Dellinger says Hanoi plans to open up a regular exchange of mail between American prisoners of war and their families.

Dellinger, head of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, also declared Monday the North Vietnamese would release the names of their prisoners, although not necessarily right away.

He said the U.S. peace movement was the only channel Hanoi would use in providing such a list.

Dellinger made these statements in disclosing parts of a plan his attorney said was arranged in meetings with the North Vietnamese in Paris over the weekend. The disclosure came at a news conference between sessions of a U.S. District Court trial where Dellinger and seven other men are being tried on charges of conspiracy to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Defense attorney William M. Kunstler visited Paris at the request of Dellinger and another defendant, Rennard C. "Rennie" Davis, Dellinger said. He said he and Davis had been invited to make the trip but were not granted permission to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

Dellinger said the North Vietnamese would release the names of prisoners of war at some future date but that someone may have to go to Paris again before this could be

Mine Safety Bill to Be a Memorial

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a mine safety bill say its passage by the House would be a memorial to the more than 170 miners killed in "daily, undramatic accidents" during the past year.

The measure, up for a vote today, was said to be the toughest mine safety bill ever before Congress.

During Monday's debate a number of House members recalled the Nov. 20, 1968 explosion in Consolidation Coal Company's No. 9 mine near Farmington, W.Va., which entombed 78 miners.

But they also said that since then more than 170 other miners have died in "daily undramatic accidents."

"We can save lives through enactment of this bill and make mining a safer and healthier occupation," said Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee which approved the measure earlier, 30-4.

The Senate, on a 73-0 vote, already has passed a similar bill. Included in the House proposal is a new system of federal compensation for miners disabled by black lung disease or pneumoconiosis, a disease caused by inhalation of excessive amounts of coal dust.

The measure establishes minimum coal dust levels, stricter inspection standards and tighter controls over methane gas.

Jailbreaker Caught, One Still Free

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — One Crittenden County jail escapee has been captured and another is being sought in the Heber Springs area by State Police following a breakout at the jail Sunday.

Authorities said James Leonard Estes, 18, of Memphis was caught Monday as he attempted to break in a cottage at Greers Ferry near Heber Springs.

Edward Trimm, 20, of Searcy was the subject of an extensive search in the Heber Springs area, according to State Police.

The two fled the jail around midnight Sunday after they sawed through the jail bars. Estes was being held for uttering and Trimm was being held for rape and kidnapping.

Judge Refuses Request for Venue Change

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley Monday refused to approve a motion by former superintendent of Tucker Prison Farm, Jim Bruton, asking that his trial be held at Pine Bluff instead of Little Rock.

Henley also turned down a motion by Bruton for a continuance of the trial. The trial is scheduled for Nov. 17.

Bruton is charged with 10 counts of subjecting inmates to cruel and unusual punishment in violation of their civil rights. Nine other counts against him have been dismissed.

Bruton said the trial should be moved to Pine Bluff because his attorney, R. A. Ellibott Jr., is a Pine Bluff resident, and because many of the witnesses he planned to call lived at Pine Bluff.

Defendants in Mansfield Case Favored

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal court jury has ruled for the defendants in three suits for $8.7 million in damages arising from the highway crash which killed actress Jayne Mansfield.

Miss Mansfield died when the car in which she was riding rammed into a truck June 29, 1967, on the outskirts of the city. Also killed were her lawyer, Samuel S. Brody of Los Angeles, and their driver, Ronnie Harrison of Biloxi, Miss.

The truck driver, Richard Rambo of Pensacola, Fla., said he had reduced speed because of a warning light on a city-owned mosquito spraying truck driven by James T. McLelland.

Small oil wells, which produce no more than 10 barrels a day are called "strippers."

Memorandum to State Highway Department

Here's something the State Highway Department ought to do in the wake of last Friday night's auto collision on U.S. 67 west of Hope in which two persons were killed and several injured:

Highway officials should confer with the Arkansas State Police Department regarding a rumor that some of the troopers feel the accident site should be marked as a no-passing zone. U.S. 67 in general is pretty well marked. That is to say, all the approaches to hills have a yellow stripe in your lane to forbid passing. But there are marginal areas where a depression is so shallow it is presumed oncoming traffic can be seen and therefore the yellow stripe is unnecessary.

Some of the state troopers seem to think last Friday's accident scene is a case in point — and it's worth the highway department's time to look into the matter. I drove out to the approximate site this morning, but not knowing the exact location could not make a personal judgment. It remains a matter for official survey.

This editor considers U.S. 67 between Hope and Texarkana a dangerous stretch of road, not so much because of the hilly terrain between Hope and Fulton but because of the narrow bridges over the entire route. The paved route of U.S. 67 was built back in the early 1930s when bridges were no wider than the roadway. Today we build bridges as wide or wider than the roadway and shoulder combined — which is as it ought to be.

The new Interstate system is built right. But it will take years and millions of dollars to widen the bridges on the regular highway system so they will be reasonably safe. Judging from the columns of this newspaper more than half all the accidents reported on our section of U.S. 67 occur at narrow bridges having high bannisters.

Home folks know about this — but the tourist from a far country can't be expected to know. And the Hope-Fulton stretch presents a special hazard because it is one of the few gaps remaining in the Interstate system. Traffic comes off the high-speed divided-highway system and is suddenly confronted with two-way traffic.

We can't do much about the narrow bridges right now — but we can check on the report that an additional no-passing zone is needed west of Hope. . . and this the State Highway Department should look into at once.

Preliminary Hearing Waived in Wreck Case

Victor C. Droboszko, 20, Butler, Pa., was found guilty of unlawful passing in municipal court here Tuesday in connection with an automobile accident Friday night in which two Texarkana cads were killed. He was fined $27.90 and gave a notice of appeal.

Droboszko waived preliminary hearing on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the accident and Judge John L. Wilson fixed his bond at $1,500.

Killed in the two-car collision were Denise Rogers, 19, and Toni Jo Tackett, 19, both of Texarkana and both students at Henderson State College.

The girls were passengers in a car driven by Johnny C. Fricks, 20, of Fort Smith, formally of Hope.

Young Fricks has been removed to a Fort Smith hospital where he is scheduled to undergo surgery Thursday. He sustained a concussion, a broken hip and knee in the collision.

AP&L Mortgage Plan OK'd

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Power & Light Co. was given the authority Monday to issue $25 million in first-mortgage bonds to improve its facilities.

The state Public Service Commission authorized the issuance of the bonds and said AP&L presently has $233 million in first-mortgage bonds outstanding. The new issues is to be paid off by Dec. 1, 1999.

Lebanese Report New Arab Attacks

By ELIAS ANTAR
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Lebanese government reported new attacks by Arab guerrillas on Lebanese villages and army posts during the night. The attacks dimmed hopes for negotiations to settle the week-long crisis.

The attackers used rockets and heavy mortars in their strikes on the town of Rachaya and the village of Mashta Hassan. An army post at Alha also was raided, the government said.

One Lebanese soldier was reported killed and four wounded. Three guerrillas died, three were wounded and four were taken prisoner, the government said. It also reported that in the rocket attack on Rachaya, 30 miles southeast of Beirut, a woman was killed when her house received a direct hit.

Intermittent fighting continued this morning at the Alha army post, five miles from the Syrian border.

Guerrillas occupying the village of Yanta brought in reinforcements Monday night to consolidate their hold, the government said. Yanta was overrun Friday night.

The presence of guerrillas at Rachaya and Mashta Hassan brings to 32 the number of localities where they have been reported. Since the present crisis began, the guerrillas have occupied four villages in eastern and southern Lebanon.

Earlier in the night, bazookas hit an American oil tank, and shooting and bombs erupted in Beirut as Lebanese officials prepared for peace talks with the leaders of the guerrillas.

Nixon Views GE Strike as Inflation Test, Will Not Interfere

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, viewing the nationwide General Electric strike as a test of its anti-inflation policies, says it will let the company and unions fight it out without federal interference.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said the government will keep out of the GE strike except for the voluntary efforts of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. If any war production is stopped, Shultz indicated, the government would consider a Taft-Hartley injunction only against the few plants involved.

Shultz said the Nixon administration had already warned both labor and business not to base wage and price decisions on the assumption of continued inflation.

"Why is the company putting up so much resistance?" Shultz asked. "It seems to me the reason must be, and I believe it is true in the case of General Electric, they are feeling the effects of the anti-inflation policy in their product market, they can't just raise their prices so easily. That means that their profits will be squeezed by a large wage increase."

"There's nothing as likely to put backbone into company negotiators than a squeeze on their profits. That's what's really going on here," said Shultz.

Shultz' remark infuriated leaders of a 12-union AFL-CIO combine representing some 147,000 strikers.

"If they're going to keep their hands out of it, they ought to keep their mouth out of these affairs," said a highly placed labor source.

The labor source also sharply countered Shultz's claim that a profit squeeze led to GE's stiff resistance to wage demands, citing Standard and Poor figures that the firm's profits climbed 11 per cent the third quarter of this year over the same period of 1968.

"Even GE didn't claim a profit squeeze in collective bargaining and can hardly make that claim," he said of the figures showing after-tax profits of $90.2 million compared with $81.3 million in the third quarter of last year.

Shultz, asked if the Nixon administration's policy meant it viewed GE's strong stand as "responsible" and the striking unions as "irresponsible," said "No."

"It isn't as though there won't be any wage increase. The question is how much of a wage increase," he said.

Three years ago, President Johnson assigned a top-level cabinet committee of labor, defense and commerce secretaries that managed to produce a GE settlement with only scattered strikes.

Blaylock said the amount of the cutback in welfare payments to a family would depend on the number of school-aged children who were not attending school.

Clem Treadwell, director of the Dallas County welfare office at Fordyce, said 29 welfare children from nine families were involved in the boycott.

About 175 Negro students have been boycotting the Carthage public schools since they opened about two months ago.

Blaylock quoted the Education Department as saying the schools the children have been attending in Carthage churches have not been approved. He said that school-aged children from families receiving aid to dependent children welfare payments must attend schools approved by the Education Department.

Prescott Man May Run for Lt. Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eugene B. Hale Jr., 32, a Prescott lawyer, Monday said he was considering running for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor next year.

Hale, who was an administrative assistant to former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, said he had received encouragement from friends, business associates and fellow Democrats.

He said he had no criticism of Lt. Gov. Maurice Britt, but said he believed the "somebody new" would have a good chance of winning in 1970.

Hale was Faubus' aide in charge of prison and parole matters and his investigation of conditions at Tucker Prison Farm led to the first dismissals and disclosures of brutality and extortion there in 1966.

Hale later joined the staff of Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell but Purcell asked for his resignation a week later after Hale released an expose of the prison system to a newspaper without notifying Purcell.

Laird Wants to Cut Back America's Role as World Policeman

By BOB HORTON

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird says the Nixon administration is reviewing foreign commitments with an eye to cutting back America's role as "world policeman."

Addressing a youth leadership conference he helped organize as a Wisconsin congressman, Laird said Monday the executive branch alone is not responsible for the web of alliances in which the United States is a central figure.

It was Congress, specifically the Senate, which approved four multilateral and four bilateral treaties, he said, adding: "This basic policy review may cause us to go back to Congress and ask it to review its approval of these various vast commitments."

Laird's audience at Wisconsin State University, one of several stops during a quick-paced, two-day visit to his home state, included 40 antiwar demonstrators demanding swifter U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam. Most of the 250 high school students at the conference were friendly, however.

Laird said the eight treaties now under review by the National Security Council would, by military estimate, require an

Union Says GE Strikers 90 Per Cent

BEIRUT (AP)—Bazookas hit an American oil tank Monday night and shooting and bombings erupted in Beirut as Lebanese officials prepared for peace talks with Arab guerrilla leaders.

JERUSALEM (AP) — A surprisingly large number of Arabs from Old Jerusalem voted for candidates for municipal office as balloting got underway today in Israel's general election.

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird says the Nixon administration is reviewing foreign commitments with an eye to cutting back America's role as "world policeman."

NEW YORK (AP) — A union coordinating office says that more than 90 per cent of General Electric's union workers are out in the nationwide strike against the country's No. 4 industrial giant. The company says its plants will be open for those who want to work.

CHICAGO (AP) — David T. Dellinger, head of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, says the Hanol government plans to open up a regular exchange of mail between American prisoners of war and their families and will release the names of the prisoners shortly.

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces killed nearly 100 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in fighting across South Vietnam late Monday and early today, and U.S. B52s pounded enemy base camps along the Cambodian north of Saigon, the U.S. Command reported.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Both the liberals and the conservatives are claiming today a measure of victory at the Second Roman Catholic synod of bishops.

Ed Thrash Named to LP Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — H. E. Thrash of Hope was to be sworn in today as a member of the state Liquefied Petroleum Gas Board.

He was appointed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to replace Edwin Gray of De Queen. Gray resigned earlier this month at the request of Rockefeller who contended that Gray had subjected himself to criticism by serving on the board while he had an application to expand his liquefied petroleum business before the board.

Negotiations were at a standstill with the unions holding firm in their rejection of GE's offer of a 20 cents per hour wage boost. GE has declined to submit the dispute to binding arbitration.

The company said Monday that more than half of its domestic work force of 310,000 persons was white collar and working despite half of its domestic work force of 310,000 persons was white collar and working despite picket lines.

Workers were bound to continue work at several plants where there were locally negotiated contracts not yet expired and at which no grievance impasses existed.

For example, 5,000 workers continued on the job at five major GE sites in Florida, including two Apollo systems plants, in Daytona Beach and Cape Kennedy.

At the heart of the walkout which began Monday is the wage issue. The company offered the 20-cents-an-hour increase for the first year of a three-year contract, with provision for wage reopeners in the subsequent years.

Industry to Report on Pollution

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Industries have until midnight tonight to register their equipment with the state Pollution Control Commission.

S. Ladd Davies, director of the commission, said Monday that those industries failing to comply would be in violation of the commission's regulations issued last August. He said, however, that the commission staff is not large enough to go out and round up the violators.

"What it will do is put us in position to take immediate action in the event a complaint is registered against some industry which has not registered," Davies said.

The purpose of the registration is to get all of the existing industries filed with the commission so that new industries will have to be inspected before they can install equipment which might pollute the air.

Liberals and Conservatives Claim Victory

By PATRICK O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Both the liberals and the conservatives claim a measure of victory at the second Roman Catholic synod of bishops.

Liberals, such as Belgium's Leo Joseph Cardinal Suenens, pointed to the considerable new sharing in papal authority Pope Paul VI seems ready to concede to his church's bishops.

Conservatives, such as Jean Cardinal Danielou of France, cited the clear reaffirmation by all 146 delegates of the absolute primacy of the Pope, his right to make the major decisions for the Church.

Other synod members protested they could not understand this talk about "liberals vs. conservatives." They viewed the synod as a great uniting assembly molding Pope and bishops into a fraternal governing team.

England's John Cardinal Heenan called the synod "a victory for common sense and tolerance."

In the formal closing session Monday, the Pope endorsed two key requests, that a synod meet every two years and that the synod's secretariat function permanently in Rome.

He also signaled broad acceptance of 11 other proposals from the bishops.

Two leading liberals in the synod, Cardinal Suenens and Bishop Alexander Carter of Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, registered over-all approval of the results. They praised the freedom of speech that prevailed during the 16-day assembly, the participation of Pope Paul and the acceptance of the synod as a fixture in Church life.

Cardinal Suenens, however, compared the synod to an elevator on the third floor of a 10-story building: "If you're looking down from the top, you say, 'Look, it's already on the third floor.' But if you're looking up from the ground, you say, 'It's only on the third floor.'"

Cardinal Danielou, a Jesuit theologian who is considered the most articulate conservative, proclaimed himself "very happy" with the results of the synod.

He commented that the meeting was a "victory for the liberals" was "absolutely false," "I say perhaps the contrary," he commented, "because the insistence on the personal responsibility of the Pope was recorded." He added that he wasn't sure all the liberals were so content because some of them wanted more "democratization" in the Church.

Pope Paul appeared to share in the general joy over the newly charted course of collegiality, or sharing by bishops in papal decision making. His closing speech Monday seemed almost a sigh of relief that ways had been outlined to let the bishops help him rule a far-flung Church torn by crises of faith and authority.

A discordant note was struck by a leftist American priest who came to Rome to observe both the bishops' synod and the "shadow synod" of dissident European clerics held two weeks ago.

The Rev. George Malzone of Washington, D.C., conceded that "the institution is moving." But he said "the people are moving so fast" that by the time collegial concepts are applied, "the people may already have moved on to new forms."

"Will what the bishops have achieved have any meaning?" he asked.

Premier Meir Seems Certain Winner

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer
JERUSALEM (AP) — Protected by the heaviest election day security in their history, Israelis voted for a new parliament today after a campaign devoid of major issues.

Premier Golda Meir's Labor coalition appeared to be a certain winner, continuing the Laborites' perennial control of the government.

All forecasts gave the government at least a plurality in the 120-seat Knesset. The coalition held 65 seats in the last parliament. The biggest opposition, the right-wing Gahal party, hoped to add four seats to the 26 it won in the 1965 elections.

Police assigned all available men to guard the 3,335 polling stations against Arab terrorist attacks. The public was told "to report anything in the slightest way suspicious." Civil defense guards checked the handbags of women voters.

Voters along the borders came alone or in small groups so as not to attract Arab gunmen. In border settlements, ballot boxes were bulletproof and fireproof. Arabs in the occupied territories were barred from entering Israel proper during the 16 hours of voting.

Soldiers along the Suez Canal and the Jordan Valley, the scenes of most Arab-Israeli action, voted a day early.

All major parties were united in defiance toward the Arabs and the world. They pledged never to move from the occupied Arab lands without a real peace. The lack of issues and the constant attacks along the borders produced a lethargic election campaign. Election propaganda focused on getting the 1.75 million voters to the polls, taking the line that the Arabs would interpret indifference as lack of confidence in the Jewish state.

The Gahal bloc, Israel's traditional opposition, advocates annexation of the occupied territories and more free enterprise in the Socialist-oriented economy.

Mrs. Meir's Labor coalition, has grown considerably since the 1965 election. Its nucleus is the Mapai party which has dominated Israeli politics since the state was formed in 1948, and it now includes Deputy Premier Yigal Allon's Ahdut Ha'avodah party, Moshe Dayan's Rafi party and the Marxist Mapam party.

ty. But elder statesman David Ben-Gurion, one of the Mapai's founders and Israel's long-time premier, is leading an independent, more rightist Socialist faction this time.

As the voting went on the Israeli military command reported that Israeli jets hit Egyptian positions across the Gulf of Suez and Arab guerrillas in Jordan southeast of the Sea of Galilee. It said all planes returned safely.

The air strike was ordered inside Jordan after an Israeli patrol came under bazooka and machine-gun fire east of the Yarmuk River about 2½ miles from the Sea of Galilee, the command said.

Sweet Willie Fails to Show for Hearing

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — The trial of Lance "Sweet Willie Wine" Watson of Memphis was continued Monday until today after Watson failed to appear in court.

Philip E. Kaplan of Little Rock, Watson's attorney, said Watson was in court at Memphis. He said he did not know if Watson would appear in court today.

Watson, the leader of a black militant group known as the Invaders, is accused of being a disorderly person at Forrest City the night he was beaten by a crowd of whites.

Watson, 31, suffered facial lacerations and a broken left elbow when he was beaten.

Kaplan urged the all-male, all-white jury to filter out "what is evidence and what is not . . . I hope you will find that Watson did nothing but walk down the street and was then set upon by a group who were angry with him. They were angry because he had done the same thing they were doing—which was peaceful picketing and assembly."

The trial is to determine if Watson should remain under a $1,000 peace bond. If Watson returned and caused trouble, the bond would be forfeited in favor of the city.

Watson also failed to appear last month in Municipal Court here on the same charge. Watson's attorneys said he feared for his life at Forrest City.

Municipal Judge O. H. Hargraves continued the case and the $1,000 peace bond for Watson with the stipulation that the case be reviewed every month. The decision has been appealed to Circuit Court.

Cheerleaders for Nixon Costing Public

By DON KENDALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of government employees turn out each year on taxpayer time to serve as White House cheering sections when the President welcomes foreign visitors or pins medals on war heroes.

This occurs on the average of once a month and means absences of about two hours each for 25 to 200 workers requested from each agency.

Last week, according to White House sources, about 5,000 passes were sent out to roundup a crowd to help President Nixon welcome the Shah of Iran.

Attendance is arranged through quotas passed out to the agencies—from the Agriculture Department to White House itself. Officials say participation is voluntary and builds morale of government workers.

The quotas vary according to the type of ceremony and security involved, and the red-carpet affair for the Shah was one of the largest.

No estimates on costs in man-hours lost from government desks were available, but agency officials said an average of two hours for each employee to go to the White House and return seemed reasonable.

A Civil Service Commission spokesman said the average pay of career government employees here is about $4.80 per hour. Thus it could cost an average of $9,600 in wages for each two-hour ceremony attended by 1,000 workers.

Rounding up federal employees for audiences is not new in Washington although the White House cheering section is recent. Officials say it began with President John F. Kennedy, expanded under President Lyndon B. Johnson and now has been adopted by Nixon.

Sees Cut in Forces Before Next Election

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott has predicted U.S. armed forces will be cut by one-third before President Nixon comes up for re-election in 1972.

The Pennsylvania senator also said he expects an American withdrawal of 300,000 men from Vietnam. He put no time reference on the latter.

Scott's predictions came while Nixon isolated himself at Camp David, reportedly to work on his promised Nov. 3 public review of the Vietnam situation.

The President returned to Washington Sunday from the presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland.

"At the moment, there is a chance, it seems to me, to try a gradual progressive disarmament," Scott said in a radio interview taped for weekend broadcast by Pennsylvania stations.

"The President is going to make more than a 30 per cent cut, in my opinion, in American armed forces during this first term."

"I would favor also, I would think, what the President seems to be headed for," he added, "... to bring back about 300,000 of our troops over a period. The sooner we can remove all combat troops from Vietnam, the better."

But on what degree of "Vietnamization" of the war should precede an American pullout, Scott put himself at odds with a fellow Republican senator, New York's Jacob Javits.

Javits, in a New York radio interview, said the United States must end its combat operations in Vietnam by the end of 1971 "even if it may mean that South Vietnam will go down the drain."

Scott said the United States cannot leave the South Vietnamese "unprepared to carry on their part of the war."

Javits said Nixon's war policy so far has been "unprofitable."

"Everything he's been saying up to now would indicate that he still wants to pursue what I consider to be the essentially discredited Johnson strategy which is 'put the heat on them and they'll negotiate,'" Javits said.

In Washington, meanwhile, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson said he thinks Nixon is
